STEEPLECHASING FIGURES PROMINENTLY IN CARD AT FORT ERIE TRACK.

Ontario Wins the Grand Canadian Steeplechase—John Reardon Scores for J. W. Schorr—Gossips from Canadian Circuit.

Buffalo, N. Y., October 8.—Steeplechasing was featured by the Niagara Racing Association at Fort Erie this afternoon. Two of the six races were for jumpers, one over the short course and the other, the Grand Canadian Steeplechase, over the full course.

David Stevenson, whose Duke of Roanoke won the Toronto Cup at Woodbine on Saturday last, furnished the winner in the Grand Canadian Steeplechase in Ontario, which beat Judge Cronin, carried in a furious stretch drive. Expansionist, the favorite of the race, fell at the tenth jump but was remounted and finished. He was bleeding when Henderson pulled up. Judge Cronin, a maiden fencer, furnished stout opposition to the winner. He took the lead going to the fourteenth jump and, entering the homestretch, it looked as if he had Ontario beaten. As the pair swung out of the field to the main track, Judge Cronin carried Ontario to the outside fence.

Several of the races furnished stirring contests. In the second race Moncreif just did manage to stall off a determined rush from Melton Street, as in the stride past the winning mark the latter showed in the lead.

Countess K. came back and won again this afternoon after his victory over Woolcasta yesterday. He beat a useful lot in the third race today, among them Dr. Barkley, Amoret and Woolcasta.

John W. Schorr's share of the day's spoils came with the running of the mile and a sixteenth handicap, which was won by John Reardon. The latter was ridden by Guy Burns, who also had the mount on Cooney K.

There was no improvement in the going over yesterday, in fact it was worse, the track being lumpy and exceedingly stiff in spots. The track's condition deceived some of the horsemen and was especially costly to S. A. Clopton, who wagered heavily on Ingrain and Amoret, both of which showed poor form. The others, John Reardon and Riffen, were the only successful favorites.

Steeplechase jockey Silas McClain, who had the mount on Dr. Heard, which fell at the fourth jump in the short course steeplechase, suffered internal injuries. He was taken to the Riverside Hospital in an unconscious condition.

Frank McGinn, who has been assisting starter Dade on the Canadian circuit, left for Baltimore tonight to join John Milton, who is doing the starting at the Marlboro meeting.

Ed Whyte, trainer for R. J. Mackenzie, signed the apprentice, J. Martin, today. He intends giving the lad ample opportunity for showing his talents and will put him on Don Antonio in the sixth race on Monday. Martin was formerly employed by S. C. Hilditch and P. T. Chinn. Jockey Taplin will leave to Toronto with Mr. Whyte on Wednesday next.

Before leaving for Barrie, John Dymett tried to purchase Lahore from James Rowe. The latter referred him to Albert Simons, who refused to put a price on the youngster.

Jockey Palms, who got into trouble at Windsor last summer, has entered the employ of H. R. McLean, a Canadian sportsman who has a stock farm at St. John, N. B. There are seven broodmares and two stallions at the McLean farm. Palms will look after these horses and also prepare and break the yearlings this fall.

The horses that R. F. Curman has been racing in Canada were shipped to Pimlico tonight. Mr. Curman himself left for Saratoga to try out the big band of yearlings he has in training there.

Otto Stifel, a well-known St. Louis racing enthusiast, a visitor at Fort Erie this afternoon and watched the running of the races from John W. Schorr's box.

Pretend, recently purchased by R. D. Williams, has been fired. The irons were also applied to the sprinter Blagg. Both horses will be shipped from here to Jacksonville next week.

MODERN TRACK FOR MARLBORO.

Marlboro, Md., October 8.—The meeting that is now going on here is proving so successful that the management of the Southern Maryland Racing Association has decided to proceed with the transformation of the course into a modern mile and an eighth of a mile immediately at the close of the present term of racing. The new track will be equipped with several chutes and a new grandstand and clubhouse will be added to the accommodations of the enclosure. A course will also be provided for trotting races and a steeplechase course over natural obstacles will be a feature of the plant. The association owns 700 acres of ground that will be available for the proposed improvements. The building up of such a plant will realize the old dream of a great race track between Baltimore and Washington which fell through a few years back, and Marlboro racing of the future will draw substantial support from both of these cities.

Mud runners had an airing at the Marlboro track this afternoon, as rain fell in torrents all day and the going was sloppy for the races. The condition of the track, of course, resulted in many scratches, so that small fields went to the post in the majority of the races, and naturally the sport was tame. But even though the weather was not of the invigorating kind a surprisingly large crowd made the journey to the track and the thirteen books that opened in found plenty of business.

The horses again ran to form, all of the winners being at short prices, with four of the victors running favorites. Diebold won the handicap steeplechase, the feature of the card, in a close battle. The main race on the flat went to Danfield. The favorite, J. H. Houghton, was interfered with at the first turn by Craftsman and after the race Estep, who had the mount on Craftsman, was suspended for the remainder of the meeting for rough riding. J. R. Marquette, Jr., won two purses with Royal Onyx and Tubal, but the first purse was virtually $200. Fain was again the star rider, with three wins, a second and a third. Royal Onyx, Tubal and Silverline were his winning mounts.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

H. C. C., Chicago. Do not possess the necessary figures to inform you.

M. E. G., Chicago. It was Jack Atkin's first win at a mile and a quarter.

John, Chicago. The bookmaker should pay and the man who sent in the commission has a right to expect payment.

H. R., London, Ont. Cannot say without a more definite statement. It depends upon what agreement there may have been. A bookmaker has no right to go outside of a backer's instructions.

JUAREZ' FORMIDABLE ARRAY OF FIFTY STAKES

El Paso, Tex., October 8.—What the Saratoga meeting was to the eastern summer racing campaign in 1910 the Jockey Club Juarez, Mexico, meeting will be to winter racing this season. The opening date is Thanksgiving Day, November 24. During 100 days of racing at this plant $300,000 will be hung up in stakes and purses.

Last season winter racing was inaugurated at Juarez with a program of twelve stakes. Now these events have been increased to fifty, which means that there will be a big feature race every other day. This is also a larger number of stakes than has ever before been offered by any racing association for a single meeting. The total stakes now open for entries at Juarez actually number fifty-two, but two of these embrace the Juarez Derby of 1912 and the Juarez Oaks of 1912. These events are for colts and fillies now yearlings.

As at the inaugural meeting at Juarez the racing this year will be confined to six days a week, Mondays being eliminated. The stake days will be Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays, though the program on the off days will be made attractive by specially conditioned races and handicaps to bring together the best horses racing there.

When the Jockey Club Juarez was granted racing concessions by the Mexican government horsemen viewed with some misgivings the opening of racing on the Mexican border. There was a fear that fortune would befall the Pate who years ago in the Mexican republic. They did not reckon that many changes would take place in the interim. The thoroughbred has gained a firm footing there and with the importation of the best racers, which constantly contributes to the development of fine horses in Mexico, the wealthy natives and foremost men of the republic have been quick to note the incomparable advantage following the popularizing of the thoroughbred sport in their country. The Mexicans had observed the success which had crowned the persistent efforts just across in Texas of such trainers as J. W. Fuller, H. T. Bachelet and others.

The Mexicans conceived the idea, based upon the natural resources of their country, that they, too, could develop fleet racers just as good as those bred in England.

Just as in the United States, there is an indication that the passing of time will demonstrate that they will accomplish on a large scale what they have set about systematically to do. And the Jockey Club Juarez, its manager, Col. M. J. Winn, says, will always offer its aid and encouragement to this end.

The coming meeting offers to American turfmen a sport of a high class. The fields will be made up of the crack horses now performing in this country, and the juvenile racers to make their debut there in 1911 will represent the pick of the breeding farms in the United States.

All of the Juarez stakes of 1910 and 1911 will close on November 30, and the Juarez Derby and Oaks of 1912, which will close on December 15. The stakes in the order of the dates set for their decision follow:
